63 Planes Sighted In Saturday's Test

The Andover ground observers reported 63 planes in this area during its participation Saturday in the 13-state air raid test of the northeastern area.

The local post was manned from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. and in that time made 52 reports to the filter station at Manchester, N. H.

From time to time various types of aircraft were seen by the observers here. They sighted, among other planes, two jets, two gliders being towed and also a B-36.

All reports from the local post went in accurate and fast from the 12 observers on duty during the day.

Observers on duty Saturday were Margaret McFarlin, Alexander Black, Albert Cole, Jr., Osburne Sutton, May Noyes, Reta Buchan, Louis Sherman, Virginia Remington, Robert Vaughan, Richard Schaberg, Claremont Gray and John Breckenridge.

A budget of $426,356 was adopted by the school committee at a meeting Tuesday night at which the resignation of Mrs. Alma Marshall MacDonald was accepted with regret.

The budget for 1952 is $44,869 higher than the present year. It covers some salary increases and makes provision for six new teachers which will be necessary by next September when it is expected that the two new elementary schools will be in full operation.

All members were present. Chairman Gordon L. Colquhoun presided and the meeting was attended by Mrs. Katharine A. Baldwin, Mrs. Dorothy T. Partridge, Atty. (Continued on Page 20)

Overnight Parking Ban Now In Effect

Warning tags were issued over the weekend to 62 motorists who left their cars parked on the streets after midnight in violation of the all-night parking ban which went into effect Dec. 1.

The ban is on from midnight until 6 a.m., but, as Chief George A. Dane explained, when there is snow on the ground it will not go off until the streets are plowed. "That's what the ban is for," he added.

Motorists cooperated fully with the police last year, the chief explained, and kept their cars off the streets at night during the period the ban was in effect.

He expects to have the same cooperation this year. If violations are found the cars will be towed away at the owners' expense or they will be tagged.

Object To Proposal For Prison Camp In Harold Parker Forest

Postmaster Sees Yule Rush Starting

Postmaster Stephen A. Boland said today, "Postal employees will be enjoying their last peaceful weekend before wading into the annual deluge of Christmas mail."

"In another week we'll be swamped. I only hope that the people here in town realize how much they can help us, and themselves, by mailing their Christmas cards and other gifts during the next few days."

"There's always a last-minute flood of parcel post from out-of-town. Most of it is the Christmas mail from friends and loved ones, but we've also received some large commercial shipments and more will come. When the incoming and outgoing operations overlap, a jam may result, and some things may not be delivered until after Christmas."

To underscore the importance of this situation, the postmaster noted that during normal periods post office cancellations average 8000 pieces of mail per day. Cancellations are now running about 9000 per day, and at the peak of Yuletide season they will average 60,000 per day.

Favors Inspection Of Welfare Rolls

Opening of the town's welfare rolls to public inspection by a committee of 10 responsible citizens is favored by Roy E. Hardy, who, as chairman of the board of selectmen is also chairman of the board of public welfare.

Some states have already adopted a plan to make welfare lists public and other places are considering such a move as it almost automatically reduces the lists to only those deserving aid.

Mr. Hardy felt that the welfare rolls should not be left open for inspection "by any Tom, Dick or Harry" who wanted to look at them. He did believe, however, that periodic inspection by a committee of 10 responsible citizens might result in a saving of money for the town, as through them it may be learned that some recipients may be getting other income.

He said that both Arthur W. Cole, agent of the bureau, and Francis P. Markey, veterans' affairs agent, were fair in their dealings with recipients and also fair to the town, but in some instances some information regarding a recipient's income may be kept from them.

Opposition to the proposal to establish a prison camp in the Harold Parker state forest will be voiced by several Andover groups at a public hearing to be held Thursday, Dec. 13, in the North Andover town hall.

The hearing to consider a site in the reservation for purposes of putting a prison camp there has been announced by Arthur T. Lyman, commissioner of conservation.

This is but one of three such hearings scheduled for next week in connection with the establishment of re-forestation camps manned by prisoners from state penal institutions in state forests.

Representatives of various Andover groups were quick to voice their objection to the proposal when apprised of it.

"My first impression is adverse," said Roy E. Hardy, chairman of the board of selectmen. "However, we will take it up at the next meeting of the board. We should be represented over there at the hearing."

W. R. Hill, president of the new Andover board of trade, said that the board will take this up at the next meeting, Monday, Dec. 10, and that in all probability a (Continued on Page 20)

Exchange Play

In assembly next Monday, students from Marblehead high will present a one-act exchange play, "Sunday Costs Five Pesos". This brilliant Mexican comedy has a cast of four girls and a boy, with the girls eventually winding up with a big free-for-all.

Later on in the year, Punchard will reciprocate by presenting a one-act play at Marblehead. The two schools also "exchanged" plays last year.

Malden Hosp. Speaker

Mrs. Hazel McAuliffe, faculty advisor to student nurses at Malden hospital, School of Nursing, visited Punchard Thursday to speak to those girls interested in nursing as a career. Mrs. McAuliffe explained the entrance requirements of Malden and then described, in full detail, the life of a student nurse there.

Following her very inspiring talk, several Punchard girls are seriously considering entering the Malden School of Nursing.

Stunt Night

Have you bought your ticket for Senior Stunt Night? The show, arranged in the form of a cross-country train trip, promises to be an excellent one. It is to be presented at the Memorial auditorium, Friday evening, Dec. 7. The train leaves at 8 p.m.

Raeburn Hathaway will serve as the train conductor, calling out the various stops which the P.H.S. "1952 Limited" will make as it journeys around the country. This magic train stops first at Hollywood where many famous personalities will be seen. Next, the '52 Limited will take you through the South (including a brief visit to Mexico), up the east coast to New York. What sights will be seen in that city! Last stop is Andover.

The girls on the P. H. S. cheering squad are to be the ushers. During Stunt night intermission, refreshments will be served in the cafeteria.

Mrs. Barbara Hill Wilson of the music department has done a marvelous job organizing the show and directing all music and dance acts. She deserves much credit.

Tickets may be obtained at the auditorium door Friday night.

Football Banquet

Tickets are now on sale for the Punchard football banquet, to be given Thursday evening, Dec. 13 in the school cafeteria. A roast ham dinner will be served, starting at 6:30 p.m. Everyone is invited to attend.

Freedom Train Document

The Andover Savings bank has very generously presented both the Punchard and Junior high libraries with photostat copies of the 42 documents on the Freedom Train. These copies will soon be on exhibit in the two libraries.

Basketball Season Tickets

This year, Punchard students will be able to buy season tickets to all the home games (excluding the two Johnson games) for one dollar. These tickets, which will be non-transferable, will go on sale next Wednesday.

Notes

Next Wednesday the second film in the "Why We Fight" series will be shown to Punchard students. This film, entitled "The Nazis Strike," depicts the beginning of World War II. This excellent series is put out by the armed services.

Twenty-eight Punchard girls attended a party at Lawrence General hospital Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Charles W. Seifert of the Lawrence General Aid association had invited all Punchard and Johnson girls who might be willing to serve as volunteer workers at the hospital.

Some sturdy bus signs, built by the boys in Carl A. Gahan's "shop" classes, have been placed in the parking area to ensure safer loading and unloading of passengers on the school buses. Special parking places have also been provided for the buses.

John Grecoe, local jeweler was at Punchard Tuesday taking measurements for the Junior class rings.

The juniors wish to thank all the townspeople who helped to make their paper drive such a tremendous success! There was such a great response to the drive that it took three days to collect all the paper.

Several of the senior boys are taking N. R. O. T. C. exams at Lawrence High Saturday, Dec. 8. The Junior Red Cross enrollment drive in the Andover school netted a total of $139.55.

Urges More Care Walking And Driving

Roy E. Hardy, chairman of the board of selectmen today asked every resident of Andover to join with the National Safety Council in the nationwide campaign to postpone the millionth traffic death.

"This tragedy, which will mark the violent death of 1,000,000 men, women and children since the advent of the automobile 50 years ago, will occur during the Christmas holidays," Mr. Hardy said. "Unless every pedestrian and motorist uses the utmost care and caution when walking and driving, the Christmas holidays will bring extra hazards. Traffic accidents reach their peak during this period because of winter weather, earlier darkness, hurried travel and holiday festivity. The traffic toll was up 8 per cent in the first nine months of 1951, and our streets and highways are apt to become increasingly dangerous as Christmas approaches.

"It will be ironic if the Christmas season—the time of good will to all men—is the backdrop for the millionth auto fatality. I sincerely hope everyone in Andover will be especially careful this Christmas time and that no accident—not even a minor one—will mar any family happiness at this joyous season."

"THE STEAK STORY"

It's an old axiom that you can't make a silk purse from a sow's ear, and it follows like night and day that anything LESS than "U. S. PRIME" steer beef will not give you THE BEST sirloin or tenderloin steak.

Let's examine that unequivocal statement for a moment. Allenhurst restaurant on the Andover Turnpike in Danvers always has proclaimed that it serves nothing but U. S. PRIME heavy steer beef. To the student of steak, this is the epitome — there's nothing better, because Uncle Sam's experts, who have nothing at stake (no pun intended) except their reputation, have said it with their grading stamps that it's the best beef in the land.

This brings the question: "What does a person look for in a steak?" If it were only the tenderness, any young cow even though unseasoned by proper feeding, would serve the purpose, because a young animal is tender — even its bones are tender. Or frozen heifer would be equally tender. But when it's juicy, flavorful steak with that broiled-in goodness you savor for days, along with the tenderness you can take for granted then there's only one answer — "U. S. PRIME."

"But it's so expensive," you say. Sure it is. It's a luxury. Allenhurst has never said otherwise. It's like imported champagne. Chanel No. 5, top hat and tails — something special for most of us. And therefore when you dine out once a month or a few times a year, each dinner is a "special" occasion when you want the BEST STEAK and the BEST DINNER that gracious living in the greatest nation on earth can provide.

That's why so many people of moderate means and discriminating taste choose Allenhurst, especially when celebrating an anniversary, entertaining dear friends, or as a treat for the Only Girl.

Time was when figures were boring, but not in this price-conscious era. Thus it is intensely interesting to have "Adams of Allenhurst" (Mine Host Sotir C. Adams) explain why "U. S. PRIME" steak is expensive.

To begin with, he says, the OPS-fixed price for top steer beef on the hoof now averages about 37 cents a pound. You can see the quotation in the paper any day. Steak is only about four per cent of the whole critter, so when he gets through paying at the rate of 37 cents per pound for all the tremendous waste represented by the head, hide, hooves, bones and what-not, the restaurateur finds that his "U. S. PRIME" steak stands him from $2.75 to $3.00 a pound. Yes, that is the wholesale price of steak, devoid of bone with that thick, white fat on top, all neatly trimmed so that only enough of it remains to broil to the delicious brown crispy covering that so many diners enjoy. Incidentally that thick snowy cover is what makes beef good and it's the infallible sign of PRIME, grain-fattened steer. But it's mighty expensive stuff to trim off before the steak goes into the broiler.

Steak can be cheaper, of course. For instance, the grade below "U. S. PRIME" figures out to 28 cents less per pound of steak — and there's less waste to boot because it hasn't had the same amount of corn feeding to build that snowy cover. The pattern of lower cost for lower quality — and progressively less waste — runs all the way down the scale to the sixth and cheapest grade of beef, which has a steak price that is $1.75 LESS PER POUND than "U. S. PRIME"

So now you know "The Steak Story." — Advt.

Teachers Hear
Mental Health

The preventive aspects of mental health were discussed by Bower of the Massachusetts Society of Mental Health during a meeting of the school committee and her discussion of which is coming to be recognized as one of the most important in the field of education. Bower noted that there are a large number of highly trained psychiatric workers to care for the mentally ill.

Bower stressed the point that the time spent in mental health work is as against fighting the disease and $94 for TB, cancer and other diseases. She said that there are many more ill patients in hospitals than in the combined total of all other diseases.

Bower spoke of the three children by the three teachers, the authoritative type of teacher, the Laissez-faire type, the democratic type. She pointed out that the children coming under the authoritative type of teacher are the type who get into trouble at school and are the type who are the property of the democratic type of teacher.

She received praise for her work and their results. She said that the results come from the by these different types of teachers.

The speaker pointed out that delinquent boys fail in school. Children, she said have a background, all of them and come from all backgrounds and yet it has been the practice of teachers to look in regard to the (intelligence quotient). Different, she said, even in the same process. Children have differences and mature in different sequence.

In discussing the two types of children fail in school in the classroom, Dr. Bower pointed out that they fail because of a low I.Q. because parents set up high standards and expect the measure up to an older child or perhaps to the set up by some neighbor. She also pointed out that the child fails because the teacher doesn't meet the needs and the teachers do not have the proper time to do properly because of the teaching load.

Dr. Bower urged that the measure be put on a child at an early age. She pointed out that some children suffer because the of the eye are not yet focus. Unfortunately, she said the child fails something in the household. The child is upset knowing that the

Teachers Hear Talk on Mental Health

Preventive aspects of mental health were discussed by Dr. Bower of the Massachusetts Society of Mental Health before a group of public school teachers at a school committee recently. Her discussion of this subject which is coming to be recognized as one of the major problems in the field of education, Dr. Bower noted that there are not enough trained psychiatrists and social workers to care for all the cases.

Dr. Bower stressed the point that only a few cents is spent in mental health care as against figures like $94 for TB, cancer and multiple sclerosis. She also told the group that there are more mental patients in hospitals than combined total of other diseases.

Dr. Bower spoke of the treatment of children by the three types of teachers, the authoritative type, the laissez-faire type and the democratic type. She pointed out that children coming under the authoritative type of teacher are apt to get into trouble outside of school and are the type who destroy property whereas those under the democratic type of teacher who have received praise tend to do better work and their learning is pronounced. She said that the same results come from the treatment by these different types of parents.

The speaker pointed out that delinquent boys fail in school. Children, she said have all types of background, all types of parents and come from all types of homes and yet it has been the practice of teachers to look at them in regard to their I.Q., (intelligence quotient.) All are different, she said, even in their glandular process. Children have differences and mature in an orderly sequence.

In discussing the two subjects, why children fail and social control in the classroom, Dr. Bower pointed out that they fail not just because of a low I.Q. but often because parents set up high standards and expect the child to measure up to an older brother or sister or perhaps to the standard set up by some neighbor down the street and also because the curriculum doesn't meet the requirements and the teachers don't have the proper time to do their job properly because of their heavy teaching load.

Dr. Bower urged that no undue pressure be put on children to learn at an early age and she pointed out that sometimes the child suffers because the muscles of the eye are not yet ready to focus. Unfortunately, she said, if the child fails something happens in the household. The child then is upset knowing that the teacher does not approve and even his friends are conscious of his plight. When the child then fails for the year, she said it means a major crisis.

Turning to the question of social failure Dr. Bower pointed out that often a youngster will attempt to prove to himself that he is a good ball player or good in some other act. She told the group that the aggressive child has generally been considered to be the mental problem whereas actually it is the quiet one who is suffering through shyness or fear and so loses out. The trend, she says is to react either by becoming aggressive or by being retiring. The teacher, she said has a powerful influence on the child not only through the relationship between the teacher and the child but through the relationship between the teacher and the group and she urged that the teacher should become sensitive to the little groups or cliques within the class for in so doing she herself will gain a lot in her effort to handle these problems. She urged that the day-dreamer be drawn into some group activity which will tend to move him away from his phantasy.

Dr. Bower saw the first grade teacher as the parent substitute and the teachers in succeeding grades as the general pattern for the child to follow for her voice, her manners, her character, are all basically important.

Winter To Be "Stormy"

An old friend arrived in the office a few days ago to let us know, among other things, that the coming winter's weather will be "stormy."

Of course everybody talks about the weather and the Old Farmer's Almanac in its 1952 edition takes up the coming season month by month in discussing this universal topic. The breakdown in this forecast contains many references to wind, snow and rain.

December, it notes, will be cold, windy and with snow flurries until the 13th, then rain and snow will alternate with northwest winds.

The first part of January will be fair with occasional moderate snow storms; from the 11th to 18th, fair and cold followed by rain or snow or both; then until the 25th overcast and dull, with perhaps, a thaw; and the last week is the only one that will be fine and cold.

The February forecast says that Groundhog day will be fair and clear, followed by rain or snow to the 9th, then clear and cold to the 17th, and then 18th to 25th look for a real blizzard which will be followed by milder days.

For March the first 10 days will be unsettled, then come storms of wind and rain and snow until the month takes on a cold clear pattern from the 18th to the 25th. The end of March will be fine and warm.

Abe Weatherwise the Almanac's forecaster, has for many years maintained his position as a leader in this field and his predictions are eagerly awaited each year.

The Almanac, which by the way is the 160th consecutive annual edition, contains its usual variety of useful and entertaining matter presented in its unique and interesting Yankee way.

Watchdogs Needed

In a letter to Senator Lodge, former President Hoover endorsed a proposal to set up a new congressional committee to act as a watchdog on military spending. Mr. Hoover wrote, "When appropriations were a few millions, the members of congress or its committees formed sufficient guardianship of their proper expenditures.

"But now that they run into many billions, something more than the normal congressional committees are essential for watchdog purposes."

It is often said that, despite the burning need for rigid economy in government, we must not tamper with the rearmament program. This is true—as a general principle. But waste in the military establishments is just as bad as waste in the interior department, the executive establishment, or anywhere else.

More than a biography of the well-known comedian, this is a history of the fabulous world of the American theater of his times.

Old Sturbridge, Village, Chamberlain.

Albert B. Wells and his brother became so interested in collecting antiques which recalled the American way of life before the industrial revolution, that they found housing the collection a matter of developing a village. Yule Seal Sale $22,434 To Date

The 1951 Christmas seal sale in 30 cities and towns of Essex county totals $22,434.90 to date, or 35 per cent of the quota of $65,000, the minimum needed to carry out the 1952 program of the Essex County Health association, Miss Louise R. Kelsey, Andover Christmas seal chairman, said today.

"Tuberculosis attacks approximately 100,000 people in this country annually," Miss Kelsey said in making this announcement, "Right here in Essex county we have about 230 new reported cases of TB each year. The Essex County Health association which is dedicated to fight this serious, communicable disease, must realize its 1951 Christmas seal goal if it is to carry out its plans for a full-scale battle against tuberculosis in 1952."

The greater part of the Christmas seal dollar remains in the county to wage a year-round battle against tuberculosis here, Miss Kelsey pointed out. Of the total, 14 per cent goes to the Massachusetts Tuberculosis and Health league, which forwards six per cent to the National Tuberculosis association with which the Essex County Health association and the state association are affiliated.

DON'T EXPECT TOO MUCH OF ONE REDDY-BOX

... check your wiring needs for comfort and convenience!

One little Reddy-Box in a room won't let me serve you properly. When folks plug too many cords into one outlet it tangles me up... I can't perform with speed, efficiency and economy. Sure, I'll make your toast, perk coffee, do your washing and ironing, run the radio, lights and television... but, please, give me enough outlets for my energy. For full enjoyment of better electric living make sure you have enough circuits, switches and Reddy-Boxes. Have several Reddy-Boxes in every room. Ask your electrician... now!

OBJECT TO PRISON CAMP IN PARKER FOREST

delagation from the board will be present at the hearing to oppose the plan.

Officials of the Andover Sportsman's club, which has just about completed a new 60-foot club house in the Parker forest, are opposed to the proposal and expect to be represented at the hearing.

Harold E. Heseltine, president of the Andover Service club, notes that the hearing will be held prior to the next club meeting but expects that the club will be represented at the hearing.

Officials of Phillips academy are interested, inasmuch as the Harold Parker forest is close to the school. They expect to be represented at the hearing.

Miss Marguerite C. Hearsey, principal of Abbot academy said she was in sympathy with the general idea of having prisoners do re-forestation work, but concerning a prison camp in the Harold Parker forest added, "we are concerned about the possible effect upon a community like Andover and upon the girls for whom we are responsible. It is likely we will have someone at the hearing."

The North Andover hearing is scheduled for 2 p.m. in the court room of the town hall, 120 North Main st., in that town. Others are at Plymouth in connection with the Myles Standish state forest, and at East Douglas in connection with the Douglas state forest.

Commissioner Lyman stated that "no definite location has been decided upon as yet regarding the establishment of these new re-forestation camps, but in each of the state forests we have already considered there is plenty of work to be done."

The conservation head also pointed out that state forests in the western part of the state are also being considered as likely places for the establishment of the prison camps, which were authorized by a new law enacted during the last session of the legislature.

The law specifies that the commissioner of conservation hold public hearings within a radius of 10 miles of a contemplated site, but also specifies that the final decision regarding the establishment of such camps rests entirely with the conservation department head.

The prisoners to be assigned to the camps will be carefully screened and selected by experts from the department of correction. Similar camps have worked advantageously in Wisconsin, Michigan, and New Hampshire.

Commissioner Lyman added that all interested persons should attend any of the public hearings.

SCHOOL BUDGET OF $426,356 ADOPTED

Anna M. Greeley, William A. Doherty, secretary, and Kenneth L. Sherman, superintendent of schools.

It was voted to approve the following warrants: $101 for the Shawshen school grounds; $1964 for the athletic association; $275 for the cafeteria; $627.22 for bills and accounts.

In submitting her resignation as teacher of grades one and two in the Indian Ridge school effective Jan. 1, 1952 Mrs. MacDonald wrote:

"Keeping house for a family and teaching school are both full-time jobs and I am finding it difficult to continue both careers successfully. I would rather be just a housewife, and be a good housewife, than to attempt to juggle both careers and have to neglect some phases of both . . .

"My four years in Andover have been very happy ones and it is with regret that I take this step."

It was voted to accept the resignation with regret. Supt. Sherman said he would fill the vacancy with a substitute for the remainder of the school year.

The committee voted to establish the maximum rate for clerical help, at $1.20 an hour. On motion of Mrs. Baldwin it was voted to set a maximum of $3000 for the superintendent's secretary, and a maximum of $2200 for the headmaster's secretary.

Bids for printing the annual 44-page school report were received as follows: Town Printing $264; Eagle-Tribune Job Printing, $286; Andover Press, $359.50. The contract was awarded to the Eagle-Tribune Job Printing.

The board discussed a child guidance clinic plan and the superintendent was authorized to appoint a committee to study it and report at a later date.
